

CLAIMS CONFERENCE FILM GRANTS

CLAIMS CONFERENCE FILM GRANTS

In movie theaters, at film festivals, on television screens and streaming platforms, films bring the lessons and memory of the Holocaust to life. Recognizing the potential of film to reach large numbers of people and to educate and spark powerful discussions, the Claims Conference provides film grants as part of its ongoing support for Holocaust research, education, and documentation.

The Claims Conference film grant program was officially established in 2010. The Claims Conference has since funded over a hundred projects, each one exploring different aspects of the Holocaust.

There are many reasons that go into our decision to support a film with a grant: it could be the cinematic quality, the focus on an underexplored aspect of the Holocaust or region, the potential to attract a new audience, or a combination thereof.

Claims Conference funded films have been recognized by the highest levels of the film industry and our films have screened at top international film festivals, such as the Cannes Film Festival, Berlin International Film Festival (Berlinale), International Documentary Filmfestival Amsterdam (IDFA), Toronto International Film Festival (TIFF), and Hot Docs Canadian International Film Festival.

Our films have been screened or been made available in countries around the world including Argentina, Brazil, China, Ethiopia, South Korea, Thailand, and Vietnam. Here are some highlights of the Claims Conference film grant program through the years:

- The Wild One* (Tribeca '22)
- The City and the City* (Berlinale '22, New Directors New Films '22)
- Where is Anne Frank* (Cannes '21)
- Love It Was Not* (Docaviv Best Israeli Documentary '20, IDFA '20)
